Last Step

Validation

After you have successfully done the setup, the system will crawl through all processes and mark it, you should give it like an hour to validate. you will receive an email stating that everything is accepted. you will also receive in your email that "CONGRATULATIONS! you have successfully registered".

After all these are done, sit tight and wait for their approval message. It takes mostly 7 days, if you don't get report before that seven days, message them through their email address (support@foremedia.net)
